Oath Taken By DiSalle As Governor

Swearing-In Rites Mark High Spot Of Day-Long Program

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Democrat Michael V. DiSalle chose a dark business suit for his inauguration as Governor of Ohio at noon today.

The American-born son of Italian immigrants brushed aside a request for cut-away coat and striped trousers by those in charge of swearing-in ceremonies on west steps of the Statehouse.

His parents, Anthony and Assunta DiSalle, brought the family Bible from Toledo for their 51-year-old son's oath-taking after receiving his commission from outgoing Republican Gov. C. William O'Neill.

The ceremonies marked the high spot in a day-long program of inauguration activities for DiSalle, nearly 40 relatives and thousands of spectators on hand for the big event.

Flags and bunting decked the Statehouse and a stand erected for officials and dignitaries. A canvas canopy offered slight protection from the cold weather.

Preparations were made for some 10,000 persons to witness the ceremonies and listen to music by Ohio State University's famed marching band. Loud speakers about the Capitol and microphones for nine television and seven radio stations were set up to broadcast the speeches.

It also was swearing-in day for other state officials elected in the Democratic election sweep last November.

They were: Lt. Gov. John Donahay of Alliance, son of the late U. S. Sen. and Gov. A. V. (Vic) Donahay; Treasurer Joseph T. Ferguson of Columbus, former state auditor; and Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy of Cleveland, former state legislator.

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, only Republican reelected to state executive office, arranged separate swearing-in services for the start of his fifth term.

All will serve four-year terms, the first under a voter-approved change in the state Constitution from two years. The amendment also provided four-year terms for state senators.

The Legislature, under Democratic control for the first time in a decade, returned for the start of its second week of work early in the afternoon.

Here is the inauguration day program arranged by Chairman Simon P. Dunkle of Columbus:

Religious services in St. Catharine's Church.

Veteran's breakfast in the Deshler-Hilton Hotel.

Noon oath-taking from Chief Justice Carl V. Weygandt of the Ohio Supreme Court.

Inaugural address followed by singing of the National Anthem. Public reception in the Statehouse rotunda and other state offices after lunch.

O'Neill Places Ohio Surplus At 35 Million

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. C. William O'Neill, in a message filed with the Legislature's clerks less than three hours before he left office, said the state of Ohio today has an unencumbered cash surplus of $35,291,000.

"This money," said O'Neill, "will permit you to meet the cost of government, as well as the additional appropriations that must be made for schools, health care for the aged, and poor relief, and still finish the fiscal year on July 1 with $6,500,000 surplus in the bank."

The incoming administration of Democrat Michael V. DiSalle has disputed this figure and claims that only economies will keep the state in the black. The cash balance at the end of the fiscal year last June 30 totaled $38,156,763.

O'Neill's statement was filed with the clerks of the House and Senate by his press secretary, Hal Confer. It is required by law and normally is delivered in person.

The outgoing Republican governor said that the predicted balance of eight million dollars would not be reached next June 30 because of the effects of the recession on state's revenues.

O'Neill even qualified his $6,500,000 balance prediction with the proviso that there be no new increase in the present level of expenditures before June 30; that no new legislation which costs money be adopted and that there will be no decline in state revenues.

O'Neill had the following recommendations:

1. That laws be enacted to carry

GOV. MICHAEL DISALLE'S first problem of inauguration day arose at St. Catherine's Church, where he launched his day by attending Mass. His granddaughter, Faye Anne DiSalle, was reluctantly posing for pictures after the services. While Mrs. Myrtle DiSalle smiles, the new governor attempts to get Faye Anne to smile also. 4 Youths Hurt When Car Hits Highway Span

Lisbon Area Boy, 15, Injured Critically In Hanoverton Crash

Four Lisbon area youths—three of them brothers—were injured Sunday when their car rammed a bridge abutment near Hanoverton, and two Hammondsburg brothers were hurt in a head-on collision in Madison Township yesterday.

Barry Pierce, 15, of Lisbon R. D. 1 is in "critical" condition today at Salem Central Clinic with injuries suffered when the car in which he was a passenger hit the bridge on Township Rd. 816 about three miles northwest of Hanoverton at 12:45 a. m. Sunday.

The car was driven by Howard E. Martin, 17, of Lisbon R. D. 1, who is in the hospital along with two brothers, Charles, 16, and Richard, 14. They are in "fairly good" condition.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said the car ran off the road and hit the concrete bridge abutment, driving the motor block into the front seat area and fracturing the left legs of the three brothers. Pierce suffered a fractured skull.

They also admitted theft of a calf from Leslie Palmer's mother. The three were taken Sunday to Woodsfield, the Monroe County seat, by Sheriff Russell J. VanFossen.

Legislature Set To Meet Wednesday In Challenging Session

CHARLESTON (AP)—The Democratic-controlled 54th West Virginia Legislature will convene here at noon Wednesday to face one of the most difficult collection of problems in West Virginia legislative history.

Republican Gov. Cecil H. Underwood will address a joint meeting of the State Senate and House of Delegates shortly after the chambers convene.

Underwood has indicated he will have a concrete program for the legislature, which gave his principal recommendations short shrift last year.

The current economic strife in many sections of the state offers a titanic challenge to the legislature, which will have 85 of 100 House members on the Democratic side and 23 Democrats in the 32-member Senate.

The money squeeze promises to be especially tight, even though veteran legislators are used to being caught between convincingly documented requests for bigger appropriations on the one hand and a shortage of money on the other.

More state funds have been requested for roads, public schools, colleges, mental hospitals and other state institutions.

There is little doubt that all need additional money, but the

Eric Johnston Plays Host

Mikoyan Visits Hollywood During His Goodwill Tour

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Anastas I. Mikoyan carried his intensive whirlwind goodwill campaign for the Soviet Union into motion picture land today with film industry representative Eric Johnston as his host.

The Soviet first deputy premier attended a dinner in his honor Sunday night at the swank Beverly Hills Hotel. The affair, arranged by Johnston, was attended by a select group of leading Southern California business figures.

In the course of a question period, Mikoyan denied that agreements made with the Soviet Union are regarded by the Soviet government as mere scraps of paper.

He put in a particularly strong bid for removal of restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union and increased Soviet-American trades.

He thus answered a statement

Salary Cut Eyed

Director To Remain Briefly, May Recall Resignation Letter

Mayor Says Salary Cut's Part Of Plan

Councilmen Approve Reduction Of Wage To $7,000 Range

Dan Maggianetti will remain as safety-service director for at least another week while deciding whether to withdraw the resignation he submitted in December to take effect today, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence announced.

Mayor Lawrence said the director's resignation from the $9,000-a-year post will be held in abeyance while Maggianetti considers the mayor's request to stay on at a reduced salary.

The mayor's announcement said he has been "besieged" with demands to persuade the director to continue in office.

"Very important progress" was made during Maggianetti's year in office, the mayor said, declaring: "I am convinced that some of the improvements in service and facilities we have in mind can be put into effect with ready public acceptance if he will continue as director."

Mayor Lawrence added: "Equally important the progress made so far will not be lost. Apparently this conviction is shared by a growing number of citizens who are pleading that Mr. Maggianetti withdraw his resignation."

The mayor said he met informally with Council Sunday and proposed the director's salary be reduced to between $6,500 and $7,000.

The emergency discussion was requested by the mayor so that a last-minute attempt could be made to persuade Maggianetti to reconsider his resignation, he explained.

The mayor's statement:

"At an informal discussion with members of Council Sunday, a reduction in the director's salary to $6,500-$7,000 was proposed subject to formal adoption by Council."

"I asked for this emergency discussion so that I could make a last-minute attempt to persuade Director Maggianetti to reconsider his resignation."

"When the director submitted his resignation Dec. 15 to be effective Jan. 12, he stated that because the income tax was repealed it appeared certain that all of the new men hired earlier in the year must be laid off and a 10 per cent general wage increase must be withdrawn about the first of the year."

"In view of such cutbacks, he said he could not in good conscience continue in his $9,000-a-year position and therefore was resigning."

"However, several days later the city received from the county auditor revised estimates indicating the city's income from usual sources together with the income

3 In Kidnap Charge Await Jury's Action

Cumberland Panel Will Study Cases Of 8 Other Defendants

Three Aliquippa men charged with kidnapping a Chester woman are among 11 persons against whom Hancock County authorities will seek indictments when the Grand Jury convenes Tuesday morning at 10 in New Cumberland.

Police and FBI agents, acting on an anonymous tip, located the baby in the second-floor flat of Jean Iavarone, a 43-year-old divorcee and widow with seven living children.

Her apartment is about 1½ miles from St. Peter's Hospital where the child was kidnapped late Jan. 2.

The child was returned to the hospital. Authorities said she was in "good condition."

The youngest baby ever kidnapped here, she was taken before her parents had the chance to have her baptized "Lisa Rose."

Mrs. Iavarone denied the kidnapping and claimed the child is hers, police said. They quoted her as saying she had delivered the baby unattended in her apartment in Chester.

The trio, now being held in Wheeling on a warrant filed by U. S. Commissioner Nell Moran, will be charged with two separate counts of kidnapping and armed robbery.

It is also believed the men may be charged with the capital felony of using another person to avoid capture.

The three allegedly robbed Mrs. Amodeo of $200 at the tavern at gunpoint and then forced her into a car, drove into the Western Pennsylvania countryside across the West Virginia state line and bound and attacked her.

The prosecutor also is expected to present information in an attempt to obtain indictments against eight other persons from the area.

The list includes Harley Baker of New Cumberland, attempted rape, Stanley Dulaney of Weirton, breaking and entering, Garry Juan Canaday, Weirton, breaking and entering.

Mikoyan's remarks to the Southern California business leaders repeated the peace and trade themes that have been stressed during his trip.

He put in a particularly strong bid for removal of restrictions on trade with the Soviet Union and increased Soviet-American trades.

Senate Starts Vote On Curbs To Filibusters

One Action Would Allow Majority To Cut Off Debating

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate starts voting today on specific proposals to make it easier to choke off filibusters.

Up for action at the outset was a proposed change in Senate rules to allow a majority of the Senate, or 50 of the 98 members, to cut off a filibuster after 15 days.

Under present rules, it takes the votes of 66 senators, or two-thirds of all 98 senators, to halt a filibuster and force an issue to a vote.

The proposal for debate limitation by majority vote was offered by Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-Ill.) for a coalition of Northern and Western senators led by himself and Sens. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.), Jacob K. Javits (R-N.Y.) and Clifford P. Case (R-N.J.).

It was in the form of an amendment to a resolution by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas under which filibusters could be shut off by two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

Even before the vote on the Douglas amendment, its sponsors conceded it had virtually no chance of adoption. But they had higher hopes for another amendment by Sen. Thruston Morton (R-Ky.), which would allow two-thirds of the senators present and voting.

McCartney questioned the woman for an hour.

First positive identification of the baby was announced by the FBI, quoting the father, Frank Chionchio, 28, a lawyer for the Port of New York Authority, said he recognized the baby on the basis of a "general family resemblance" and a small scar over the left eye he had noticed the night the baby was born.

"I feel very happy," Chionchio said as he left the hospital to rejoin his wife, Frances, 26. She has been staying with her parents in Brooklyn.

The blood type of the baby was identical with that of Mrs. Chionchio, the FBI said, but did not correspond to Mrs. Iavarone's.

Inflation Can Be Prevented'

His countrymen back home on Main St. were happier about President Eisenhower's state-of-the-union message than his political associates in Washington.

Whenever a president delivers one of these messages to Congress he reports, in effect, on the state of himself. Mr. Eisenhower looks very much like a chief executive with a stiffened back at the outset of 1959.

If he holds this posture while Congress drones through its 1959 session and arrives at a spending policy, he will become a symbol of the only friend the taxpayer has left in this whole wide world.

He will look like an over-age Goliath winding up to whirl a stone smack-dab between the beady eyes of the spendocrats who have been brandishing a Goliath's club labeled "100-billion-dollar budget." That is their free-wheeling estimate of what the government should be spending to keep even with the Soviet Union.

IT SEEMS incredible that anyone over the age of six could be dumb enough not to understand that the strength of the United States is determined by private spending, not public spending. This is not Russia, where all spending must be done by the Communist masters, or not at all.

There is no comparison between the two countries, yet a movement is afoot in Washington among spendocrats to put the U.S. government into competition with the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics on a public-spending basis. They estimate that 100 million in 1959-1960 would be about right for a start, with much more later.

To them and their inflationary doctrine, President Eisenhower has said in unmistakably clear terms that a budget of 77 billion would be a great plenty.

Our Sunday Punch Is Production

The wave of remorse and misgivings that has been washing over American pride ever since the Soviet Union took a commanding lead in cosmic rocketry and proved it could hold it, has drowned out a key fact.

The Russian success was the result of two known and freely admitted circumstances.

First was the Russian round-up of the cream of the German rocket experts after the end of World War II. These people were taken to Russia and given every possible inducement to work at top efficiency in their specialty.

Second was the Russian government's early adoption of a planned project of cosmic rocketry. The United States, meanwhile, was working on a smaller scale with military rocketry, using a smaller number of German experts to guide it through the mysteries of a new branch of science.

The impression that this country came off second best in a contest of scientific skill because it lacked the potential know-how and Russia possessed it is only half true. Russia took its skill in the early stages from the Germans, just as the United States did.

Thereafter, Russian rocketeers were working toward a fixed goal that even now the United States has not duplicated. It has no cosmic rocket program in the sense that Russia has one. Its primary interest is still military rocketry, and its long-term dependence for the success of that program is still what it always has been — capacity to produce what it has decided to build.

Production was America's "secret weapon" in World War II. It has been the secret of this country's high standard of living—mass production. Even the atomic bomb, on which the United States had a monopoly for a brief time, was not an American scientific secret but a triumph of American production.

If there needs to be a straw to grasp to save American composure while Russian cosmic rockets are reaching as far as the sun, he has declared that dollar-cheapening inflation which does not worry the spendocrats a bit worries him a lot and can be prevented.

He even has done what few of his countrymen expected a man with his military background would do; he has put his presidential finger in the eye of his former military associates who always want twice as much as they think they can get, which is 20 per cent more than they need.

And just to make sure that no spendocrat will be able to sleep for the next few months, the President has struck a ringing note of compassion for his squirming countrymen who, starting at this time every year, settle their accounts with the tax collectors.

DWIGHT EISENHOWER thinks it is highly important to let the U.S. taxpayer keep more of the money he earns. He thinks, private, individual enterprise is worth saving as a way of life. He says the preservation of America's secret of making money by letting the American people spend it on their own collective progress is just as important as the sterile contest to see who can pile up the biggest stack of armament without going broke.

This is an interesting insight into the state of the President, who is showing interesting signs of anti-inflationary leadership. There is no political future in it, because it would entail a touch of austerity, but perhaps Dwight Eisenhower like Charles de Gaulle has decided there are more important things than political futures when a man is making his last stand as a public figure.

If the presidential backbone stays this stiff, the spendocrats will have started to live their darkest hour, beginning with the budget debate of 1959. An American taxpayer can call some of his money his own.

The City Tax--Its Past And Future, If Any

When East Liverpool voters killed the city income tax Nov. 4 was it murder or justifiable homicide?

That's a question that still hasn't been settled after more than two months, despite post mortems on street corners, in living rooms and at City Hall as people on both sides of the fence try to figure what was behind the big "silent" vote that wiped the ordinance off the books.

The tax probably will be proposed again, although with some revisions, but before the new trial balloon goes up the officials want to figure out definitely what brought the last one down full of holes.

Although no one can pinpoint the cause, the voters' rejection was indisputable. More than 5,300 said flatly they did not want the tax to continue. Only 3,400 voted to retain it. So the opponents of the tax outnumbered the proponents by about 1,900 — a wide margin in a municipal election by any standards.

HERE ARE some of the reasons the proponents have offered for the defeat:

Opposition from labor, chiefly the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and a consistent campaign in its weekly newspaper, the Potters Herald.

The votes of people who simply did not want to pay a new tax, believing the city would get along under its old revenue standards.

The opposition of persons who might have favored the tax in lukewarm fashion, but were angered by the fact the ordinance was enacted with an emergency clause, ruling out the possibility of a referendum.

The anti-tax feeling of 5,200 individuals and business places which were forced to file separate tax reports because their income was not subject to withholding at the source.

A general opposition to new taxes on the part of a public that feels itself already imposed upon to the limit by local, county, state and federal levies, but had an opportunity to vent its spleen against the city measure.

MANY OTHER reasons, some trivial, some comparatively significant, have been advanced to explain the overwhelming rejection of the tax. Most observers are willing to agree now that it was a combination of several factors — not one "burning cause" — that led the voters to dump the measure.

Some felt at first it was the ambiguous wording of the proposition, under which "yes" meant "no" and "no" meant "yes," but that theory has been pretty well discarded.

Others felt that a big share of the opposition came from persons who went to the polls almost exclusively to vote against a statewide "right-to-work" measure and were in a frame of mind to vote against the tax.

But the defeat of the tax cannot be tied directly to defeat of "right-to-work" because the rejection of the state proposal was so much more decisive. East Liverpool showed 2,015 in favor of outlawing union shops, 6,596 against the change.

Defeat of the tax cannot be linked with any one geographical section of the city or population segment because every ward went against the proposal — some more heavily than others.

What some call the working class neighborhoods of the First and Fourth Wards went against it by approximately 2 to 1. In the Second Ward — generally speaking a residential area of business and professional men and others in higher income brackets — the tax still was defeated, but by a narrower margin. The margin in the Third Ward was 3-2.

Obviously, all the persons who voted for Mayor Fred P. Lawrence's "reform" administration in November 1957 did not back up the tax plan. Lawrence received 4,379 votes in the election that made him mayor — 904 more than the "for" vote in favor of the income tax a year later. However, the vote last November was much larger than the turnout in the municipal election a year earlier, which means that many of those who voted for or against the tax had taken no part in selection of the mayor.

THE OPPONENTS' principal rallying cry was that the tax ordinance contained an emergency clause which "crammed it down our throats" without the opportunity for requesting a referendum.

Under referendum procedure, effectiveness of any legislation is delayed until the people have had an opportunity to vote.

But the opponents managed to bring the question to a vote by taking advantage of another right under the Ohio Constitution — proposing an initiative ordinance to repeal the tax measure.

The major difference is that an initiative proposal does not hold up effectiveness of the measure it seeks to repeal and the city was allowed to collect the tax pending the decision at the polls.

Trades and Labor Council led the fight to put the question on the ballot, although it had support from other quarters.

HERE ARE some of the proposals that have been advanced officially for attempting to restore the tax:

Explain the city's financial structure in great detail to every interested group and individual, justifying the city's need for additional income to meet higher operating expenses and to undertake capital improvement programs.

Seek to pinpoint the main causes of opposition and answer them as well as possible, particularly by wiping away the thought that the city government seeks to cram any measure down its citizens' throats.

If the public wants an opportunity to vote on the tax before it becomes effective, explain the necessity for so-called "friendly referendum."

Law does not permit Council to put the tax question directly to a vote. However, Council could enact the tax legislation again without an emergency clause, with the advance understanding that some group would circulate petitions to put it to a vote at the next general election in November.

Then the tax either would go into effect or be discarded, depending upon the outcome of the vote, but no money would be collected pending the decision of the people.

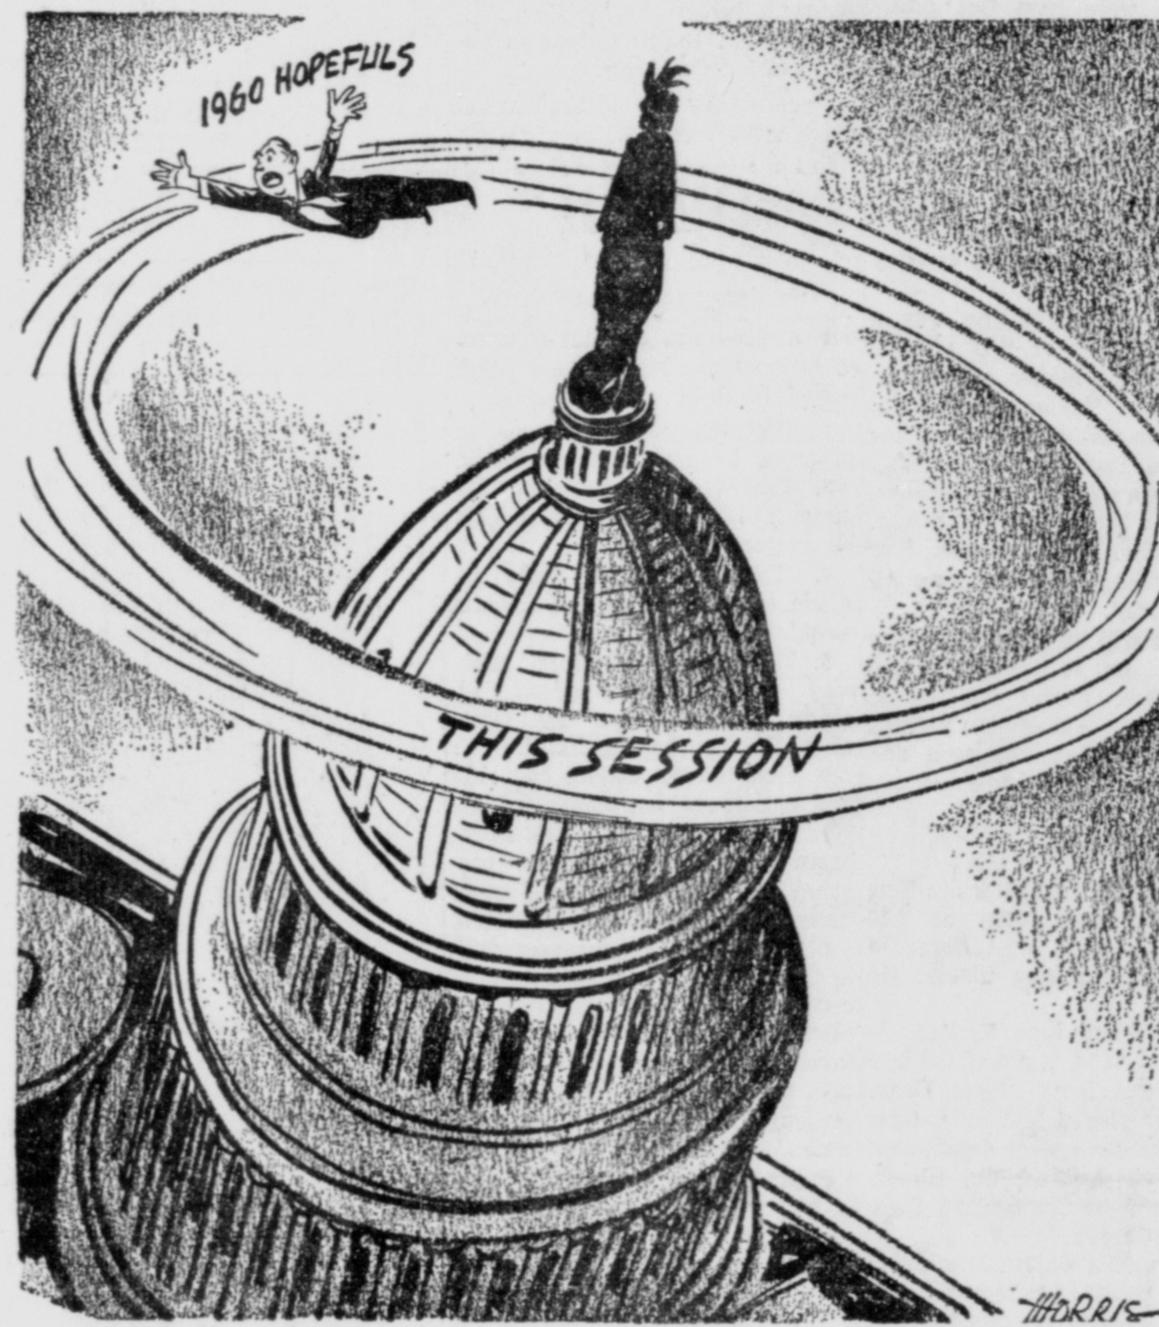

ONE ARGUMENT against the "friendly referendum" proposal is that the city would have to operate without new income until November. A referendum or an initiative ordinance cannot be submitted at a primary election.

The "friendly referendum" and initiative techniques has been used here at least once in recent history. That was in 1948, when the city approved an ordinance to adopt daylight saving time each summer.

The vote was sought to put an end to a long-standing controversy that arose each spring and sometimes kept Council embroiled in arguments for several weeks. Each year the question of adopting or skipping daylight time arose and each year Council heard endless arguments from both sides without really knowing what the majority of the city wanted.

Finally, the vote was decided upon to attain a final decision. "Straw polls" had been conducted in the past on ballots published in the newspaper and by petition, but there always was a general suspicion that pressure groups were dominating the picture on both sides.

As a solution, Council enacted daylight saving time legislation and a group of businessmen circulated petitions to put the question on the ballot. It carried by a substantial margin in the election that November.

Why The Kind Treatment For Mikoyan?

By Victor Riesel

Productive Session Seen

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON

This will be a busy, interesting and probably constructive Congress. It is unlikely to seem spectacular if only because very little even does in the grinding legislative mill.

It will be self-conscious, perhaps just a little less conservative than the previous Congress and, despite plenty of conflict, its personal relations with President Eisenhower may not curdle very much.

Democrats and Republicans in this Congress can not help being self-conscious: Its two-year term will be drawing to a close at the time of the 1960 elections when voters choose a new Congress and a new president.

Both groups know their performance these next two years will be a major factor in the election outcome — for themselves and their party — and that the next president may be chosen from this Congress.

It hardly seems in the cards for this heavily Democratic Congress to get into feuding, name-calling and bitterness with Eisenhower in his last two White House years.

Democrats and Republicans in this Congress will be spy rings about which the public never learns. But from these rings, Mikoyan funneled some of the industrial developments which have enabled the Russians to beat us into outer space. Mikoyan was not just another member of the Soviet Union's Politburo making general policy.

The now genial visitor wrote the espionage orders himself. He handed them to secret agents for transmission to America in Soviet diplomatic pouches.

THERE WERE, in turn, handed to Comintern representatives as well as hundreds of lesser Soviet officials in the U.S.

Some of the orders were passed on to pro-Soviet labor leaders, long since exposed. These men, Americans and Russians, were working daily right in the innards of our most guarded industries.

That was in the days when Comrade Mikoyan officially was the Soviet Union's foreign trade minister.

To get some of this pedigree on the man now here for a "soft sell" of the Soviets to the American people, you need not have access to any cloak and dagger bureau dossier. You need only find one man, still active in Washington and New York.

He is one of Mikoyan's former aides, Victor Kravchenko by name.

Back in the w e a r s , Kravchenko was economic attaché of the U.S.S.R. Purchasing Commission in Washington. But he chose freedom. He broke with the Soviets.

Later, in April 1947, he swore under oath publicly to what he had secretly told our counter-intelligence agencies during the intervening years.

House Republicans are still under conservative leadership.

Those who are not being beastly to Comrade Anastas Mikoyan, second in command of the Soviet Union, should know that our intelligence agencies have the visiting továrach listed as a former chief of economic espionage specializing in the U.S.

Bluntly and brutally, the visitor now being feted in our best places was under assignment from Joseph Stalin to steal our basic research and newest industrial secrets in the war's final years.

Working under Mikoyan were spy rings about which the public never learns. But from these rings, Mikoyan funneled some of the industrial developments which have enabled the Russians to beat us into outer space. Mikoyan was not just another member of the Soviet Union's Politburo making general policy.

All this is known in detail to the top AFL-CIO leaders at their Washington headquarters.

THEY WERE, therefore, surprised, chagrined and some of them bitter and angered when they learned that James Carey, a member of the AFL-CIO's eight-man executive committee, had invited Mikoyan to a special creamed chicken lunch at his union headquarters.

Some of the labor leaders assumed no undue subtlety in telling this to Carey when he personally telephoned Monday evening and Tuesday morning to ask them to sit with the Soviet officials.

Among those who turned Carey down were AFL-CIO President George Meany and the Machinists' leader Al Hayes. They said they would not sit with a representative of the nation under whose guns hundreds of working people die each day.

There were those who resented this hospitality to Mikoyan because he arrived in the midst of violent anti-Semitic and anti-Catholic propaganda campaigns inside the Soviet Union.

Mr. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical Workers, also attempted to interest Lewellyn Thompson, U.S. Ambassador to Moscow, who now is in Washington. Mr. Thompson said, in effect, "It's all yours, Jim. I wouldn't touch him."

Just what does it take on the Soviets' part for some of our people to treat them as we treated the Nazis — of which they are but a different hue?

A Problem Of Geography

Berlin — a city divided against itself in the East-West contest — stands in the heart of northern Europe, half-way between the English Channel and the Russian border. Moscow is 1500 miles east, the far coast of Ireland equidistant on the west.

Within Germany itself, however, the nation's prewar capital is distinctly off-center. More than 300 miles east of the Rhine, it is 900 air miles beyond the Federal Republic.

Thus, West Berlin is an isolated outpost in Communist East Germany — a fact again underscored as the USSR demands the withdrawal of all occupation forces, America, British, French and Soviet, from the city's four sectors.

Amid the rubble of fire-bombed brick, stone and masonry, parks and squares have reappeared, framed by new homes, apartment blocks, office and public buildings. Along neon-lit Kurfürstendamm, West Berlin's Champs Elysées, luxury s a c t s , hotels, cafes and theaters have sprung up.

Cinemas from bases in West Germany.

The airlift went on day and night from the time the Communists set up the blockade in June 1948 until they gave it up in May 1949. After the emergency rations were safely landed, the "flying boxcars" brought raw materials for closed-down factories and heavy equipment and building supplies to keep reconstruction going in the bomb-devastated city.

Today, West Berlin is far stronger and more independent than it was in 1949. Allied authorities have held free elections and in effect turned over most administrative powers to the West Berlin Senate.

The famous Berlin Airlift of 10 years ago demonstrated before the world how a blockade of West Berlin could be broken.

United States and British airmen — heroes of "Operation Vittles" — flew in desperately-needed food, clothing, fuel and medicines from bases in West Germany.

2 Awards To Be Made100 Expected Wednesday
For Jaycee 'Bosses Night'

Over 100 are expected to attend the annual Junior Chamber of Commerce "Bosses' Night" dinner Wednesday at 6:30 p. m. at the Country Club.

John A. Jones, assistant to the manager of the industrial relations department of the Weirton Steel Co., will be guest speaker. A journalist and world traveler, his talk will be on development of the Ohio Valley.

Two awards for outstanding civic achievement, the Distinguished Service Award and the Civic Service Award, will be presented by the Jaycees. The DSA goes to a man under 35 while the CSA is given a man over 35. The recipients are picked by a secret committee.

Richard Emmerling is dinner chairman.

Six local Jaycees and their wives attended the all-state meeting over the weekend at Youngstown.

No formal action was taken on a resolution by the local Board of Directors opposing the way a national "Ten Outstanding Young Men" award winner was selected about a week ago. The resolution, which has been forwarded to national directors, disagrees with the policy that the award be presented only if the recipient can make a personal appearance at an awards dinner.

Attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shriner, Mr. and Mrs. Sydney C. Porter Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Adkins, Mr. Asia.

The American Buffalo is really a bison, quite distinctive from the true buffaloes of Africa and an awards dinner.

After attending services in St. Catharine's Church Sunday, the DiSalle's greeted an aerial caravan of five planes bringing relatives from Toledo for the inauguration.

Thirty-eight of DiSalle's 40 relatives promised to be on hand for the festivities. Besides his parents, they included his five children, their spouses and grandchildren.

The DiSalle's four daughters are: Antoinette (Toni), now Mrs. Robert E. Watkins; Constance, now Mrs. Thomas Bloomer; Barbara, a teacher employed by U.S. Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois; and Diana a student at St. Mary's School in South Bend, Ind. Michael E. DiSalle, a son, is married and they have a daughter. Mrs. Bloomer also has a daughter and Mrs. Watkins a son.

DiSalle turned the election tables on O'Neill to win the governorship. It was DiSalle's first statewide election victory in four starts and O'Neill's first loss in five. Besides one term as governor, O'Neill served three as attorney general and before that six terms in the Ohio House, one of them as speaker.

"Although this appointment was made as far as I am concerned because it was thought that my 26 years in state service and my business experience qualified me for work to which I was assigned, I have decided to request the department to withdraw my name from the payroll. There will therefore be no reason to take punitive action against other members of the department."

Braden Resigns Post
In Mental Health Unit

COLUMBUS, OHIO (AP) — George C. Braden, whose appointment to a high post in the administration of outgoing Gov. C. William O'Neill roused the ire of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle, resigned today.

Braden, former state registrar of motor vehicles, had been named assistant to Dr. Robert A. Haines, the state's mental health chief.

Haines confirmed receipt of Braden's resignation and said he had been withdrawn from the payroll.

Braden said in a statement:

"Recent newspaper stories indicate that Gov. DiSalle may question the propriety of my having been employed by the Department of Mental Hygiene and Correction. They also point out that the positions of other employees of the department may have been put in jeopardy because of my employment.

"Although this appointment was made as far as I am concerned because it was thought that my 26 years in state service and my business experience qualified me for work to which I was assigned, I have decided to request the department to withdraw my name from the payroll. There will therefore be no reason to take punitive action against other members of the department."

Legislature

legislature has the unenviable task of providing the sources that are hard to come by.

The state government is taking in less money. Falling tax revenue prompted the Board of Public Works to order a 5 per cent cut in spending from appropriations made by the legislature last year.

Floor battles are expected in the legislature on the soft drinks tax and what appears to be a snowballing movement to set up liquor by the drink in the state.

The controversial soft drinks levy, and more so an extension of it, was brought about by what is now known as the West Virginia University Medical Center.

Eight years ago the legislature decided that WVU should have four-year schools of medicine, dentistry and nursing. The 1951 session enacted a penny-a-bottle soft drink tax to finance the project.

Last year the Medical Center needed money for its building program, which is nearing completion. The legislature broadened the pop tax to include products that are used in making soft drinks at home.

The most recent act has failed to yield additional revenue. In fact, soft drink tax receipts the first half of this fiscal year - July 1, 1958, through December - ran a few dollars behind the previous year.

Another liquor by the drink resolution is expected to be introduced. That question is a constitutional one. Only a vote by the people of the state can make it legal to sell whisky over the bar.

Approval by two-thirds of the full membership of both chambers of the legislature is required to put the question to a popular vote. The last vote in the legislature did not result in even a simple majority for lawmakers of the wet persuasion.

The adjournment deadline for the 60-day session is midnight March 14.

Allies Due To Stand Pat

Ike, Mikoyan Will Confer

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is expected to impress upon Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan this week that the Western allies have no intention of abandoning West Berlin or creating a neutralized Germany.

Eisenhower and Premier Nikita Khrushchev's top deputy will meet at the White House late this week, following further policy discussions between Mikoyan and Secretary of State Dulles.

The Soviet visitor met with both Dulles and Vice President Nixon a week ago before starting his present tour around the country. Interest in the forthcoming discussion was sharpened over the weekend by two surprise Moscow moves.

1. In notes to the United States and 26 other countries that fought Nazi forces in World War II, the Soviet government proposed a 28-nation conference to meet at Warsaw or Prague in two months to write a German peace treaty. The 12-page note was accompanied by a 25-page detailed outline for a treaty, including provision for withdrawal of Western and Soviet troops from Germany and a ban on German membership in any military alliance. West Germany is a member of NATO.

2. In a second note Saturday the Soviet Union called for resumption of East-West talks on the problem of preventing surprise attack in the nuclear missile age. The United States responded promptly with a statement saying it favors resuming the talks — which broke down at Geneva Dec. 18 — but wants an agreement with the Soviet Union on the range of problems they should deal with.

Both notes were received at the State Department Sunday. But even before the German peace treaty plan came in, officials said on the basis of a Moscow announcement Saturday that it was clearly unacceptable.

One of the provisions of the Soviet plan for Germany was that West Berlin should be converted into an unarmed free city until East and West Germany are reunified. Pending unification, the proposed peace treaty would be made with both the Communist East German regime — which the Western powers have declined to recognize — and the anti-Communist West German regime.

Mikoyan in his talks in Washington and other cities has given no evidence of any weakening of Soviet policy on German questions.

If Mikoyan came here with any really new propositions or concessions in his pocket, they are still there, but many U.S. officials feel that he may spring a surprise when he sees Eisenhower.

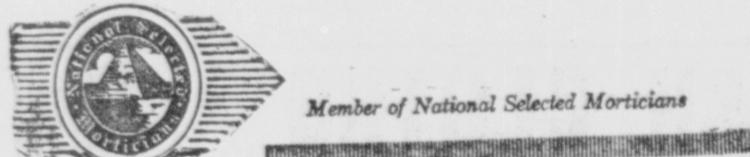

The basis of this reasoning is that Soviet leaders, notably Khrushchev, have made no effort to hide their dislike of Secretary Dulles. It is felt, therefore, that if Khrushchev had an important card to play he would prefer that the play be made to Eisenhower rather than Dulles.

Mikoyan's visit with Nixon apparently was cordial. Their discussion included a tentative invitation for Nixon to visit the Soviet Union, but the vice president replied that would be difficult to arrange.

When it becomes your responsibility to decide whether flowers shall be included in a funeral service, remember that flowers, symbolic of eternal life and hope, have always played a part in life's most significant ceremonies.

As members of the National Selected Morticians, we, of course, conduct services according to your wishes. Yet we think you should know that flowers at this time often provide comfort to the family as well as a tribute to the one they love.

Military Trials Speeded

Cuban Executions Mount

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Executions of the followers of former Dictator Fulgencio Batista are mounting in Cuba as the forces of rebel leader Fidel Castro continue their hasty military trials.

Thus far about 50 Batista supporters have been executed. Nearly 3,000 are awaiting trial.

Asked on a U.S. television program Sunday why the Batista followers were being executed without open trials, Castro said: "There were not so many ... two or three dozen criminals."

"They were judged," he said, adding that "if anyone killed 15 or 30 people, he has no right to live."

The interview was recorded in Havana Saturday.

Correspondent Jules DuBois of the Chicago Tribune reported that the mutilated bodies of 160 anti-Batista prisoners were found Sunday in a mass grave on the outskirts of San Cristobal, 60 miles west of Havana.

Military authorities in Manzanillo announced Sunday that Cubans will not be allowed to witness the firing squad executions of Batista supporters. But they will be allowed to see the bodies afterward.

Directorate troops Sunday began moving out of the University of Havana and the board of governnors was working on plans to reopen the university. It has been closed since Castro started his revolution.

All public and private schools, closed since before Christmas, were ordered to reopen today.

In the television interview Castro repeatedly insisted that the provisional government is being guided by public opinion and not by force.

He said his country is now and will remain a democracy. "We are men of the law," Castro, a lawyer himself, declared.

Castro said on the television program that his impressions of the United States improved last year when military assistance to Batista was halted. He added he was happy the United States was quick to recognize the rebel regime.

Municipal Court Revenue Totals $70,116 In 1958

Municipal Court collected $70,116 in 1958 — just $35 short of the all-time record of $70,151 established in 1957 — it was shown today in the annual report of Clerk Harold L. Powell.

The court turned over $63,363 to the city treasury, a decline of $1,418 from the $64,781 paid the municipality out of 1957 revenue.

THE CITY'S SHARE last year was made up of $56,692 in fines, costs and forfeits from criminal actions and $6,671 from costs in civil cases. A decline in receipts from criminal cases accounted for the drop in the court's income. Criminal receipts last year were down $1,036 from the $57,726 recorded in 1957. Civil cases produced $7,053 in costs in 1957.

In addition to the amount paid the city, the court turned over $1,637 last year to the state as its share of fines resulting from violations of state law; $4,214 to the county, also from state cases, and $900 to the Law Library Association. In 1957, the court paid $2,912 to the county, $1,307 to the state and $1,150 to the Law Library Association.

THE OVERALL amount handled by the court last year hit $105,036, a decline of $4,731 from the $109,767 shown in 1957. Funds handled last year included $34,134 in the civil branch and $70,902 in the criminal branch. In 1957, the court handled $39,346 in civil cases and $70,576 in criminal actions.

The funds include money received and distributed in trusteeships and judgments in civil cases and refunded bonds in criminal actions.

New cases filed in 1957 included: 851 civil, 1,389 city criminal and 375 state criminal.

A breakdown of receipts by months shows:

8 Hancock 4-H Clubs Recognized

Eight Hancock County 4-H Clubs have been awarded state recognition, according to Helen Petrasik, 4-H Club agent. Ribbon awards based on attainment in 4-H project work, community activities, and camp attendance, were given to the following clubs: Cherokee Junior, Mrs. William Schladen, leader, blue ribbon.

Cherokee Senior, Mrs. Robert Burch, leader, blue ribbon.

Elwood, Mrs. Wayland Lancaster, leader, white ribbon.

For Jefferson, Mrs. John Bender, leader, blue ribbon.

Hardins Run, Mrs. Robert Carson, leader, white ribbon.

Pioneer, Mrs. James Arehart, leader, red ribbon.

Willing Workers, Iris Cuppy, leader, blue ribbon.

Wylie Ridge, Ruth Glass, leader, red ribbon.

At the end of the club year, the secretary's book for each club is sent to the county Extension Office. If the club has met requirements for a ribbon award, the book is sent to the State Office for final checking.

The ribbons are awarded for the number of meetings, membership, project participation, sponsorship of a community activity, attendance at camp and other standards.

Court Suspends Permit For 2 Young Drivers

LISBON — Traffic Court hearings at the Courthouse have resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two motorists. A curfew was set for another who drove without a license.

The license of Dallas R. Prudmore, 17, of 900 St. George St., East Liverpool, was suspended for 60 days for speeding.

That of James Horne, 17, of Lisbon R. D. 1, was suspended until July 12, when he will become 18. He was charged with permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car.

Susan Crowl, 15, of Lisbon R. D. 5 was placed on 9 p. m. curfew for 30 days for driving without license.

2nd Blaze In 2 Days Damages Man's Auto

Firemen did a repeat performance over the weekend by extinguishing the second fire in two days in the same car.

The rear seat and part of the roof of a car owned by Thurman Sporlock, 734 St. Clair Ave., burned Saturday at 11:03 a. m. Friday afternoon, firemen had extinguished a fire in a blanket in the rear seat of the car.

A mattress caught fire in an apartment house at 309 E. 2nd St., owned by Gus Palmisano, Saturday at 4:37 p. m. but a tenant carried it outside before firemen arrived.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain without surgery or anesthesia.

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne)—discovery of a world-wide medical revolution.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®.

Johnson's resolution has the backing of top Senate leaders of both parties, except for Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel (R-Calif.), the new GOP whip, or assistant leader.

It was designed as a compromise between Southern senators opposed to any change in the present rule and the coalition of Northern and Western senators demanding debate limitation by majority vote.

On a first test vote on Friday, antiliberal forces went down to defeat by a lopsided 60-38 count.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann: I love to knit. My husband says this is a sign of a weak mind. He claims anyone who can sit for hours and do the same thing over and over must be slightly feeble-minded.

This burns me up, especially when he does some rather peculiar things and thinks nothing of it.

During the football season he had the TV turned to one game and the radio tuned in another. He ran from the living room to the sun porch and acted excited. I knew good and well he didn't know what was going on either place.

During the elections he pulled the same stuff. When I asked him who was winning in New York he said "Vanderbilt." (He knew it was somebody with loads of money but that was all.)

I'd appreciate it if you'd say something in print about this. I'm getting fed up with his attacks on my mentality just because I like to knit—especially when his behavior is so odd. — PORT CHESTERETTE.

Knitting is not a sign of a weak mind. It requires skill and can be extremely intricate. Any woman who can knit an argyle sock has my undying admiration. During the war I knit two pairs of simple GI socks and was politely told I could do my country a great service if I knit for the Germans.

I don't agree that your husband's behavior indicates he's unbalanced. Giving the appearance of taking in two activities at once makes him feel superior. The fact that he falls between the chairs and gets very little from either doesn't enter his mind.

"Overly busy" people have hungry egos. They're interested not so much in achievement, as the illusion of efficiency created by organized confusion. With such a man, a little compliment can go a long way. Try it.

Cleveland Girl Mentions City In Vice Probe

Police, Firemen Face Accusations Of Girl In Cuyahoga City

A runaway 15-year-old girl who has accused Cleveland police and firemen of having illicit relations with her also told investigators over the weekend that she spent a week in East Liverpool while her escort worked in an auto wash with the door closed—even if they are only dancing?

She keeps telling me if I trusted her it wouldn't make any difference if the door was open or closed. How about this, Ann? Am I square?

If you can give me something in the paper to show her I'd be grateful. These days parents need all the help they can get. Please hurry.—WEAK MOTHER.

Overly busy" people have hungry egos. They're interested not so much in achievement, as the illusion of efficiency created by organized confusion. With such a man, a little compliment can go a long way. Try it.

Insist she respect your judgment and stick to your guns. Explain that this has nothing to do with trust. It is a matter of good taste.

You can demonstrate your confidence by keeping busy in another part of the house when she has guests. Make yourself scarce and she'll be less inclined to "shut you out."

Learned Too Late

Dear Ann Landers: I am not writing for advice—you've already advised me. But like a fool, I didn't listen. I'm writing in hopes that I can save someone else a broken heart.

I was one of those women who thought she was different—too smart to be caught in a mess. I wasn't the type. I learned too late, Ann, that love doesn't pick types.

I gave myself, body and soul to a married man. He deceived me into believing nothing could keep us apart. I made him the center of my universe. Nothing else mattered.

Then one fine day he told me we'd have to see each other "less" because the situation at home was getting shaky and he couldn't afford to have trouble with his family.

I knew this was the end. In plain English it meant his wife and children came first. And why shouldn't they? Why was I too stupid to see it?

Did you know, Ann, you can actually feel it when your heart breaks?—ONE WHO KNOWS.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

East End Church Given Reports Of Committees

Reports of various committees were featured at the annual congregational meeting of the Second Church of Christ Sunday following the morning service.

Clarence Smith, chairman of the board, presided.

It was reported that 1958 income of approximately $6,000 surpassed the totals of earlier years.

Veteran Nurse Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Miss Mary M. Roberts, 82, chief nurse of the Army Nurse Corps in World War I and longtime editor of the American Journal of Nursing, died Sunday of a stroke. She was born in Cheboygan, Mich.

Student Pastor Called To Church At Clarkson

CLARKSON — A call has been made by the Clarkson Presbyterian Church for Kerry Meier of Pittsburgh, student at the Western Theological Seminary, to serve as pastor for a year. James Gardner, former student pastor, resigned to accept a position at Pittsburgh.

A congregational meeting will be held Jan. 25 following morning worship, Wallace Swaney, chairman, announced.

Driver Fined $20

LISBON — Kenneth R. Slovin-sky, 22, of Clarksville, Pa., was fined $20 and costs Friday night by Mayor John Todd for crossing a yellow line. William L. Wagner, 46, of Akron forfeited $15 bond when he failed to appear on a charge of speeding. Both were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Ministers Elect At Salineville And Plan Good Friday

SALINEVILLE — Officers were elected and plans discussed for a Good Friday service at a meeting of the Salineville Ministerial Association at the Methodist parsonage Friday night. The Rev. E. E. Bacon of the Oak Ridge Presbyterian Church presided. Officers are:

The Rev. Ellis C. Damiani of the Assembly of God Church, president; the Rev. Donald R. Archer of the Church of Christ, vice president, and the Rev. William Buell of the Methodist Church, secretary-treasurer.

The group decided to present an appropriate film for the Good Friday service, concluding with Communion.

Rev. Damiani and Rev. Archer were appointed to obtain the film and plan the program, which will be presented in the Church of Christ.

Skating Accidents

Hurt Woman, Boy

The investigators said some of the girl's stories corroborated, but other allegations were believed false. She was described as "habitual liar" by her parents and by Euclid officials, who arrested her after an earlier runaway episode.

Cleveland police and firemen were placed in lineups in Cleveland headquarters as the girl sought to identify more of the men with whom she alleged she had been intimate. She told of spending a night in a Cleveland fire station in which she was intimate with three firemen. Authorities said statutory rape charges will be filed in cases where the girl's allegations prove true.

In the part of her story relating to East Liverpool, the 15-year-old said she lived here a week while her escort worked in an auto wash place and sent her customers. An uncle of her boy friend was along but never "bothered" her, she said. However, other male associates of the boy friend were intimate with her, she said.

Then one fine day he told me we'd have to see each other "less" because the situation at home was getting shaky and he couldn't afford to have trouble with his family.

I knew this was the end. In plain English it meant his wife and children came first. And why shouldn't they? Why was I too stupid to see it?

Kaycees To Hear Talk On Insurance Changes

Frances Bernett of Steubenville, district Knights of Columbus insurance representative, will speak at a meeting of Carroll Council 509 Tuesday night at 8. He will explain recent changes in the Kaycee insurance system.

James Buchheit, grand knight, will conduct business. Arrangements will be completed for the quarterly communion Sunday during the 10:30 a.m. Mass at St. Alloysius Church.

James McGowan, district deputy, and J. E. Johnston, master of the Fourth degree of Eastern Ohio, will report on an officers' meeting they attended over the weekend at Cleveland.

Raps Mikoyan's Visit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Msgr. Edward J. Halloran, Cleveland Diocesan director of the Holy Name Society, deplored Sunday the visit here last Wednesday of Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan. Msgr. Halloran told about 1,000 delegates to the Society's 10th annual convention that "it was no friendly visit on Mikoyan's part or on the part of Russia. In true Trojan horse style, he took advantage of the opportunity to inspect our industrial plants, to learn the know-how of our industrial genius that it might be used against us at their pleasure."

Midland Youth Center To Mark Anniversary

Mrs. William Spisak, Midland Hi-Spot Youth Center director, said today the center is planning a "Heart Hop" and open house held Feb. 7 to celebrate the center's third anniversary.

Plans still are incomplete for the dance, which will be held in quarters in the Borough Building.

Mrs. Spisak said a donation proceeds of the dance to be held Jan. 31 will be made to the March of Dimes in Beaver County. The center will be open Friday from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. instead of Saturday, the night Lincoln High School plays basketball at East Liverpool. About 143 members and guests attended Saturday's session, she said.

Painting around window panes is easier when you coat the glass with kitchen cleanser in a paste or use professional masking tape or liquid. There are also handy guards against which to paint when doing windows or, when painting woodwork, to protect the floor. A sash tool is angled to make brushing difficult edges and corners easier.

Other advice on decorating to bachelors might be if you want maximum light reflection from the wattage in your rooms, paint ceilings white. If you like the beauty of deep-hued ceilings, increase the number of lamps in your rooms.

While flat paints are best for living areas as they are pleasing to the eye and diffuse light correctly, you'll want to use the glossy enamels for kitchens, bathrooms and woodwork as these tough shiny coatings are resistant to grease and steam, and stand up under repeated scrubbings.

ANGLED ENTRY WALLS and a projected living room window give this three-bedroom ranch a mark of distinction. Bedrooms and two baths are compactly grouped about a center hall. Kitchen is extra large and arranged so that entire family can dine there in comfort. Excluding garage and breezeway, the plan covers 1,516 square feet. It is HA68-P, by Architect Samuel Paul, 89-51 164th St., Jamaica, 32, N. Y.

Scared Doe On A Floe Keeps Boat On The Go

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP)—Afloat on a floe was a doe. She was trapped, with no place to go. A Coast Guard cutter Mariano, out on ice patrol, spotted her in tow.

And that was the end of her woe.

That is the saga of a deer floating down the Hudson River on a cold Sunday afternoon.

The Coast Guard cutter Mariano, out on ice patrol, spotted her in tow.

the deer and set out on a rescue mission.

Alarmed by the 180-foot ship, the doe kept skipping from floe to floe, like Eliza fleeing the hounds. It was more than an hour before the lassie found its mark.

A seaman scrambled onto the floe and tied the deer's legs so she wouldn't hurt herself when she was hauled aboard.

And then back to the woods she did go.

Second Hearing Begins In Temple Dynamiting

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—George Bright was scheduled to go on trial today on a newly phrased charge of dynamiting the Jewish Temple. His first trial ended in a mistrial.

A new count was added to the indictment on Dec. 23. It called for sentences of from 1 to 20 years for persons convicted of blowing up buildings in which no one lives.

The original one-count indictment called for the death penalty or life in prison for persons convicted of bombing dwellings or houses within the limits of a city.

Trial on the original indictment ended in a mistrial on Dec. 10 after a jury deliberated 26 hours without reaching a verdict.

The Temple was dynamited early on Oct. 12. Bright, 35, was one of five Atlanta men indicted in the case. The others have not yet been tried.

NEW YORK—Frequently, bachelors' living quarters lack more than the "woman's touch"—they lack any touch at all.

Finances cannot be blamed. Bachelors are the only income group about whom such a generalization can be made. Usually, lack of interest or knowledge is the basic cause - poor excuses for dull and colorless home surroundings.

If the bachelor is colorblind and approximately 8 per cent of men are partially so—he should consult with female friends regarding decorating, or better still, consult an interior designer before he undertakes to revitalize his apartment decoration.

A. DUDLEY KELLY, San Francisco decorator recently made a metamorphosis in the apartment of a young man-about-town. From a dull beige-on-beige scheme that depressed all the young man's guests, and doubtlessly had a bad psychological effect on the young man himself, Dudley Kelly turned it into a delightfully cheerful room that reflected the personality of the occupant.

Living room walls were painted a rich blue-color choice of the majority of men—and with this blue, deep green leather and upholstered furnishings were used. Light warm touches of gold and yellow were introduced in lamp shades, drapes and small accessories such as ashtrays, framed prints, decorative pillows.

The adjoining bedroom reversed the color scheme of the living room with pine green walls and blue-green (turquoise) bedspread, cotton carpeting and French Provincial style furniture painted the same matching deep turquoise.

For the young man whose budget precludes the invaluable assistance of a trained decorator, or who has a penchant for doing-it-himself, rejuvenation of tired-looking living quarters is becoming increasingly simple.

New paints are self-leveling, fast-drying, and simple to apply and are odorless.

The alert bachelor can find at his paint store a wide selection of painting aids to assist him in his job—there are capacious paper paint buckets to stain paint in and then throw away, disposable paint roller sleeves and disposable painting gloves.

Living room walls were painted a rich blue-color choice of the majority of men—and with this blue, enamel in a color to contrast with the surrounding floor colors.

Gauge doors that slide forward and up into the roof of the garage are head - bumpers. A bright hue painted along the bottom edge of the door will be a constant reminder of the hazard involved.

A driveway in the suburbs or country that is not lighted can be outlined by rocks painted with white or fluorescent paints. Gates and posts marking entranceways can be indicated in the same manner.

There are dozens of other places in the home where a little paint will serve as safety reminder. But there's one article on which paint should not be used — and this, too, is a safety measure. Don't paint a wooden ladder. Use linseed oil or some other clear preservative. Paint will hide cracks that might develop later and thus prevent you from getting advance notice that the ladder is becoming unsafe.

How To Check Accidents

By ANDREW C. LANG
(P) Newsfeatures

Paint is used both for decorative and preservative purposes. But applied in the right places and in the right colors, it can help reduce home accidents by serving as a danger signal and making hazardous areas more visible.

Stripes are the best way to mark the top and bottom steps of basement stairs, using orange and black or black and white. First, paint the entire step the lighter color.

When the paint has thoroughly dried, put on masking tape in the striped pattern and paint the exposed area black. The tape should not be stripped off until the paint has dried.

If you feel that such a pattern will detract from the appearance of a finished basement or playroom, then paint the bottom step in a contrasting color that fits in with the general decorative scheme and still highlights the danger.

WALLS OF dark enclosed stairwells throughout the house should be painted white, ivory or yellow—the colors with the highest reflective power—and should be well illuminated. Dabbing the light switches with luminescent paint for easy location is also a good idea.

Where there are small children or elderly members of the household, it's wise to draw attention to all thresholds by applying floor he screams his head off when he wants something until he gets it." So writes an Ohio mother, who says she can't manage her child, 3. There is a brother 17 - months old. She says fur the r: "I have trouble with his in - between-meal eating. He wants this and he wants that and carries on until I By Garry Meyers lose patience and give it to him."

I read countless such letters from mothers in a single year.

THE EXPLANATION of this mother's problem is betrayed in her own words, "until he gets it," or "until I lose patience and give it to him." In either case, the child wins by his rage and screams. He's rewarded for them. The mother pays the child for his tantrums.

Her first problem is to be more careful about saying no or denying this child an object or privilege. Once having said no, or just acted no, she needs to prove she means it by what she does or doesn't do. As a rule, she doesn't need to do a thing but merely act as if she were a wooden post.

THIS MEANS THAT she will act as if she doesn't hear him cry, or is unmoved emotionally by his crying, even if he "screams his head off."

She should know that his head really will stay on, however much

LOURAIN, Ohio (AP)—Firemen used 7,300 pounds of oxygen and worked for 90 minutes with two resuscitators to revive a family of four after they were overcome by carbon monoxide fumes Sunday. An improperly vented gas-fired water boiler for the heating system of their home at 3217 East Erie Ave. was blamed for the poisoning of Mrs. Michael Abram, 35, and her children, Michele, 8; Kathy, 5, and John, 2. The father, owner of a motor sales business, did not appear to have been affected.

Steel Production Highest Since '57

CLEVELAND (AP) — Steel mills turned out 2,109,000 net tons of steel last week—the biggest tonnage since October 1957, Steel Magazine reported today.

It came to 74.5 per cent of rated capacity, another indication that the industry is continuing its steady recovery. The rate was comparable to 78 per cent of 1958 capacity.

Steel producers last year added 6.9 million tons of capacity, boosting the annual figure to a record 147,633,670 tons.

Seven of the 12 districts reported increases.

Wheeling led the rise with a hike of 5 points to 84 per cent of rated capacity. Detroit was up 2.5 points to 96.5, Cleveland up 3.5 to 86.5, Pittsburgh up 4 to 76, and Youngstown up 1 to 65. Cincinnati lost a point to 82.

The metalworking weekly said sheets continue to pace the market as automakers, appliance manufacturers, and other consumers step up their buying or replace dwindling stocks.

"January shipments will be as good as December's or slightly better," Steel predicted. "Delivery promises on cold-rolled prod-

Korean Veterans Can Now Convert Term Insurance

More than 685,000 Korean conflict veterans are now able to convert their previously non-convertible term GI insurance to permanent GI policies, William Holsinger, manager of the VA Regional Office in Cleveland, said today.

The affected term GI policies, Holsinger explained, are identifiable by the letters "RS" which precede the policy numbers.

A new statute (Public Law 85-896) which was effective Jan. 1, provides thousands of "RS" policyholders with three options:

1.—To convert their "RS" term policies to permanent plans of GI insurance.

2.—To exchange their "RS" term policies for a "limited convertible" term policy carrying a lower premium rate, but which—after Sept. 1, 1960—can not be renewed by persons who have passed their 50th birthday.

3.—To keep their "RS" term policies at the currently established premium rates, which increase every five years.

The maximum amount of the new-type insurance will be limited in each case by the face amount of the veteran's present "RS" policy.

Holsinger listed the types of permanent insurance available under the new law as ordinary life, 20-pay life, 30-pay life, 20-year endowment, endowment at age 60, and endowment at age 65.

The new type policies—like the "RS" policies they may replace—will not yield dividends.

Only "RS" policyholders are affected by the new law. It does not re-open GI insurance, Holsinger warned.

Information about the conversion or exchange of "RS" insurance is now available at all VA centers, including the area office at Steubenville.

The watch and all but $2.60 of the money were recovered.

City Soldier Awarded Ribbon With Pendant

M.Sgt. Paul E. Drane, supply sergeant for the U. S. Army War College at Carlisle Barracks, Pa., has been awarded the commendation ribbon with medal pendant for meritorious service during the period October 1956 to January 1959.

Presentation was made by Brig. Gen. Edgar C. Doleman, deputy commandant of the War College in ceremonies held Thursday.

In presenting the citation, Gen. Doleman praised Sgt. Drane for his technical skill, competence of judgement, loyalty and cheerful disposition in the employment of maintenance, conservation, supervision and distribution of college supplies.

The Sergeant and his wife, the former Dollena Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto M. Chandler of East Liverpool, reside at Carlisle, Pa.

Recruits Now May Pick Vocational Training

The Army is now offering for the first time a "Choose-It-Yourself" vocational training system for recruits, Sgt. Emanuel Bosley, local recruiter, announced.

Poor Loser Gets Encouragement

On a slimming program you either lose weight or enthusiasm. When you weighed in this morning, if the pointer showed a 2 to 4 pound loss, you will be convinced that along last you have found the right way to reduce and control your weight. In this frame of mind, you'll be eager to continue to curb calories and eat to build slimness.

However, those of you who failed to lose a single pound on the scientific diet plan are bound to feel discouraged. It is important to know that in the beginning stages of reducing, there is a wide up-and-down swing in weight changes. On the same calorie deficit, one overweight may lose 5 pounds the first week while another dieter fails to lose a single pound in twice that length of time. Worse, some dieters actually gain!

THE TROUBLE is water retention, so let's get the facts. Fat is stored in the body in individual fat cells. As the fat is used, the droplets in some of the fat cells get smaller, but the cell membranes may become distended with water.

When this happens, the scales will not show any loss until the water is released. And, since water weighs more than the fat it has displaced, this can account for the apparent gain.

How long does this go on? That, too, varies. The scales may fail to show any loss for 10 to 15 days. In fact, one dieter claims she lost no weight for an aggravating 21 days.

During this period, her husband was dieting with her lost 11 pounds. Completely discouraged, the Mrs., after a restless night, decided to stop dieting and go back to her regular ways of eating. Out of habit, she stepped on the scales the following morning and found to her astonishment that she had lost 11 pounds.

After a prolonged period of water retention, the water is often released rather abruptly, and when this happens, the pointer on the scales will plunge with pleasing suddenness.

124 Pints Of Blood Collected At Lisbon

LISBON — A total of 124 pints of blood was given to the Red Cross Bloodmobile Friday, according to Mrs. Jayne Calhoun, general chairman.

This was one pint short of the quota set up for each visit twice a year by the bloodmobile to keep the blood banks in Salem hospitals supplied.

The first visit in September netted 138 pints, 90 pints were given in February and 81 in August of 1957 and 88 in February and 53 in July of 1958.

Mrs. Burrell Reeder of the Lisbon - Elkhorn Rd. was presented a pin as a gallon donor by Mrs. Calhoun.

Vote On Incorporation

LORAIN, Ohio (AP)—Sheffield Twp. voters decide today whether to incorporate Clearview Village, south of here. There are 1,655 eligible voters for the special election. If the proposal is approved, a village with a population of about 4,500 and an area of 3.28 square miles would be created. It would have an estimated tax valuation of more than 12 million dollars.

Mrs. Charles E. White, wife of an optometrist, will be sworn in on the new board composed of four women and three men.

She polled some 36,000 votes to about 29,000 for the white incumbent, Dr. John Glen, in an election last November.

Houston, the largest school system still segregated in the South, has about 160,000 students enrolled.

Most catfish are useful scavengers who help keep waters clean by lingering at the bottom and devouring the foul food dropped by fish who stay at the top of the stream or pool.

Potters Look Better, But Bow To Youngstown Five, 72-64

South Pulls Away In Final Minutes

By CHUCK CRONIN

Though turning in their best performance since mid-December, the East Liverpool Potters find themselves sweating out a six-game losing streak today after bowing to Youngstown South, 72-64, Saturday night at Memorial Auditorium.

South lost the battle of the percentages — both from the floor and the foul stripe — but nailed down its fourth victory in nine games with a rousing fourth quarter when the clutch-shooting Warriors outscored East Liverpool, 19-10.

Coach John Karaffa's Potters, battling hard the entire distance, flashed a long-awaited improvement in all departments except passing as they lost their 9th game in 10 starts.

IT WAS A close game all the way, with the score tied five times in the second period, twice in the third, and the lead changing hands numerous times in the final quarter.

East Liverpool's last lead was at 60-59 with 3:35 left in the game. After two Potter cagers were benched in rapid order by personal fouls in the next few moments, South pulled away and scored the last eight points of the game.

The game opened the second half of East Liverpool's 1958-59 schedule.

Scoring for the Potters was well-balanced with five hitting for double figures.

SENIOR BOB BEATTY, 6-3 forward, was a tower of strength on the boards and found opportunity to score 16 points from the inside in his best game of the season.

Behind Beatty, who sparked both offense and defense, were junior Bob Mackall with 13 points on four goals and five of nine foul shots, and center Ray Bigelow and sophomore guard Ken Cunningham with 12 points each. Junior Craig Burwick finished with 10 points.

Burwick left the crowd open-mouthed for a few minutes as the buzzer sounded the end of the third period by looping a spectacular 44-foot set shot from across the mid-court line, the longest shot made in the MA this year.

South, coached by Merle Roselle, also had a well-balanced scoring attack with five players posting double figures. Booker Wright, 5-11 senior, was the big gun with 18 points.

However, the player who broke the Potters' backs was team captain Al Lewis, a 6-1 senior, who hit four straight jump shots in the second quarter when the Potters were attempting to pull away to a comfortable lead.

ROSELLE, apparently sensing an easy victory with knowledge of East Liverpool's 1-8 record at game time, started five of his second-line substitutes.

However, the five regulars didn't even get seated comfortably before being called on for action as the Potters raced to an 8-0 lead.

Roselle's varsity went to work at cutting down the margin and when the first quarter had ended had sent South ahead by one point, 17-16.

The second quarter moved at a rapid pace and after five deadlocked scores, South had built up a 41-36 halftime lead. Both teams scored well in the second quarter, with Cunningham firing in three long set shots for the Potters and Bigelow and Beatty each scoring two tip shots. Mackall chipped in with five of six free throws in East Liverpool's 20-point second period. South scored 24 points in the second quarter, with Lewis leading the way with eight.

SOUTH maintained its lead until two minutes were left in the third period, when Bigelow tied the score at 48-48 on a tip shot, and sent two foul shots through the hoop for a Potter lead of 50-48.

A jump shot by South's Bill Rolland tied the score at 50-50 and a foul by Roland gave South a 51-50 lead. Bigelow and Lewis matched field goals and then Burbick archived the long set shot as the buzzer sounded to give the Potters a 54-53 lead.

The fourth quarter was tense, with the lead exchanging hands often until South's Bud Taylor scored a layup to give the Warriors a 61-60 margin which they never relinquished.

The last three minutes found Bigelow, Jan Allen and Burbick all leaving the game on fouls, providing South a definite edge.

The Potters were trailing by only one point, 65-64, when the Warriors pulled away on a tip shot and a foul by Wright, another three points by Roland, and two fouls by Wilson.

The Potters posted a better shooting percentage even in losing by hitting 24 of 64 shots for 38 percent. The Potters were 16 for 28 at the foul line for 57 percent.

South hit 35 percent on 28 field goals in 89 attempts. The Warriors hit 16 of 31 foul shots for 52 percent.

KARAFFA's charges now have nearly a full week of practice in preparation for a jaunt to New Philadelphia Friday night where they will meet a strong Quaker quint. Philly, loser only to Dover and Salem, is 6-2 for the season.

Following the New Philly contest, the Potters try their luck on the home boards again by entertaining Midland's rangy Leopards Saturday night. Midland is 9-3 for the season. Midland won last year's game, 58-48.

Potter Reserves Record Sixth Win Over South, 57-43

Heading for another successful season, East Liverpool's reserve squad had little trouble in smashing Youngstown South's Jayvees in the preliminary Saturday night.

Coach Frank Chan's hustling yearlings cashed in heavily at the foul stripe to record their sixth victory of the season against only three losses.

The Potter reserves outscored South by only one field goal, 19-18, but hit 19 of 33 foul shots to wrap up the victory. South made 7 of 18 at the charity stripe.

Classy shooter Kenny Miller, a 5-10 sophomore, and Cookie Goodballet and Mike Geon all registered in the double figures to lead the Potter assault.

Miller hit for 20 points on 7 goals and 6 of 10 free throws, while Goodballet had 12 points and Geon 11. The Potter quint took advantage of South's erratic passing to maintain a comfortable lead in the final three quarters.

Baker's 13 and Leonard's 10 points were high for Youngstown.

London Given Edge In Bout With Cooper

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

Young Brian London is a slight favorite to turn back the challenge of blond Henry Cooper today in London in a defense of his British heavyweight boxing championship ship.

A TKO over Willie Pastrano of New Orleans moved London into the higher echelon of the heavyweight division last September. He had won his British crown by knocking out Joe Erskine in three rounds in June.

London once stopped London in one round in 1956 but he has been bypassed by the youngster. He recaptured enough prestige to get the title shot by upsetting highly ranked Zora Folley of Chandler, Ariz., Oct. 13.

With Floyd Patterson's manager, Cus D'Amato, bidding his time about announcing his next defense, there is speculation that the London-Cooper winner might get a shot. If not a title bout, the winner might meet Ingemar Johansson for the European crown. In any event, the bout packs more than usual interest in the United States.

Win Fourth Match, 22-19

Potter Wrestlers Beat Springfield

East Liverpool High's one-beaten wrestling team was forced to come from behind with victories in the heavier weight divisions to slip by tough Springfield Township, 22-19, to score its fourth victory of the season Saturday night at the Jefferson County school.

Boyce Methodist, 31-22, over St. Aloysius; St. Stephen's Episcopal, 37-4, over Second United Presbyterian; Chester First Methodist, 20-18, over First Methodist of East Liverpool, and First Church of Christ, 25-23, over First Church of the Nazarene.

Coach Lou Venditti's grapplers, defeated only by Weirton, again exercised their class in the upper weight brackets to squeeze by with a victory, handing Springfield its second loss of the season against three losses.

Boagham scored 23 points in leading Wellsville Central Methodist over Chester First Christian.

Everyone got into the act in the first six events as Springfield won the first two matches in the lightweight divisions and battled to four draws in the following events.

The Potters trailed 16-8 after the first six events as Springfield won the first two matches in the light-weight divisions and battled to four draws in the following events.

Sophomore John Goodballet, rapidly improving with each match, sent the Potters on their way to an eventual victory by decking Springfield's Lee in 5:41 of a 14-round event.

Potter Nick Musuraca then decisioned Gregor, Jim Bise decided Lewis of Springfield and undefeated Bill O'Neill won easily over Burch of Springfield to enable the Potter squad to take a lead it never relinquished.

The match saw Goodballet record his fourth straight victory and O'Neill his undefeated string to five matches, but marked the first loss of the season for John McKinnon, Potter heavyweight. He was defeated by Springfield's Denio Danko, an outstanding fullback on First Methodist.

Baker's 13 and Leonard's 10 points were high for Youngstown.

Brown's Honored As Player Of Year

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

New York (AP) — Jimmy Brown, one of the mightiest fullbacks in football history, was voted 1958 Player of the Year today by an Associated Press panel of experts covering the National Football League campaign.

The Cleveland Browns' battering ram, who was similarly honored in 1957, his rookie year, received stubborn competition from Johnny Unitas, the brilliant Baltimore quarterback. Brown received 12 of the 41 votes cast and Unitas got 15.

The remaining 4 votes were divided among 4 players—quarterback Bobby Layne of Pittsburgh; halfback Lennie Moore of Baltimore and defense men Sam Huff and Roosevelt Grier of the New York Giants.

The sophomore season, usually a jinx for most players, proved no obstacle to the 22-year-old Brown. In 1957, the Syracuse grad gained 942 yards and scored 9 touch downs. This past season, he crashed and dashed for a total of 1,527 yards, easily disposing of the old mark of 1,146 yards set by Steven Van Buren of Philadelphia in 1949.

Auburn Five Keeps Rolling

By The Associated Press
Except for the NCAA, no one is stopping Auburn these days as its football and basketball teams continue rolling up concurrent streaks unmatched in collegiate history.

Plenty of football teams have had longer unbeaten streaks than Auburn's 24. A bundle of basketballers have won more than 21 in a row, the current status of Auburn's winning streak.

But no one has ever dominated both major sports at the same time the way the Tigers are now.

The basketball Tigers, who bagged their 10th straight of the season 63-54 over Florida Saturday night, and St. Bonaventure (8-0) of Olean, N.Y., are the only major unbeatens in college basketball today. The Tigers haven't lost since Alabama tripped them 83-65 about a year ago.

The football Tigers had a tie with Georgia Tech last fall but have whopped all 23 others they've met since losing to Florida in their sixth game of the 1956 season.

Both, however, have been shooting only for poll and conference recognition because the NCAA has tagged Auburn with probation through 1961 for football recruiting irregularities.

Swinging into another week of conference activity, here's the way the major races look:

SEC — Auburn (3-0) on top, with surprising Georgia (3-1) second after an 80-79 upset of Alabama last Saturday. Kentucky, top-ranked nationally, is 2-1 with Mississippi State.

Southwest — Texas Christian (3-0) the leader, with Arkansas and tied at 2-1.

Atlantic Coast — National powers North Carolina State (5-0) and North Carolina (4-0) running one-two.

Missouri Valley — Cincinnati (3-0) leads second-place Bradley (2-1).

Big Ten — Minnesota leading at 1-0 with five others, including cofavorites Northwestern and Michigan State, tied at 2-1.

Southern — West Virginia (5-0) threatened by Virginia Tech (3-0) and William & Mary (5-1).

Big Eight — Favored Kansas State tied with Kansas and Oklahoma at 2-0.

Ivy League — Dartmouth and Princeton (both 3-0).

Skyline — Utah (2-0), challenged by Brigham Young (1-0).

Rocky Mountain — Perennial leader Idaho State locked with Colorado State College at 2-0.

Pacific Coast — California and Southern California both 3-1, Stanford and UCLA a half game behind.

Oho Valley — East Tennessee (2-0).

Mid-American — Kent State (2-0) trailed by Miami of Ohio, the perennial, 3-1.

JIM BROWN of the Cleveland Browns picked up two yards on this play before being hauled down by Western stars Les Richter, No. 48 of Los Angeles, and Leo Nomellini, No. 73 of San Francisco. Moving in on the play at the right is Will Sherman of Los Angeles. (UPI Telephoto)

Ordered To Curtail Activities

Graham To Plan Crusade Despite Trouble With Eye

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham went ahead with his plans for a world crusade today in the face of advice by physicians to curtail his activities because of an eye ailment.

Graham told reporters that he intends to go to Australia, Indonesia, Malaya, Cairo, Jerusalem and Berlin this year.

He was interviewed after making a zealous talk before the second Combined Texas Baptist World Missions and State Evangelistic Conference in the packed 1,500-seat Memorial Auditorium.

Graham's illness earlier caused him to cancel a scheduled appearance at the Dallas First Baptist Church.

"The program may be cut somewhat by doctor's orders," Graham said of his projected tour, "but right now I plan to go."

He had announced previously he would go to Rochester Tuesday for a check-up at a Mayo clinic instead of leaving for the West Coast en route to Australia.

Graham insisted he felt all right but "there's something wrong with one of my eyes."

"But I don't know what it is," he continued. "The doctor told me what it is — a long technical name — but I think he's as confused as the Republicans are about these days."

"I spent two days in doctors' offices and about midnight last night I got orders not to preach," he said of his cancelled church appearance. "I don't have cancer, I've had no heart attack; I haven't had a stroke and I'm not blind."

A cable sent to Australia showed

"angio spastic edema of the macula."

The macula lutea is a small yellow spot on the human retina and is the most sensitive area of the retina.

The description suggests a spastic congestion of blood vessels serving the macula.

Graham said he will speak to-day at a luncheon to about 1,100 business men and tonight before the church group.

Graham's father-in-law, Dr. L. Nelson Bell of Montreal, N.C., cabled Australia that the eye ailment is a "rare and serious condition brought on by excessive work, strain and stress."

Dr. Bell said Graham's eye was examined at Louisville, Ky., Friday, where he addressed the Baptist Theological Seminary.

The evangelist told his Dallas audience that the "world must solve its problems quickly," noting that Oak Ridge scientists had told him the hydrogen bomb now is obsolete and that we have much deadlier weapons.

Pins Awarded For 30 During Brownie Rites

Pins were received by 30 members of Brownie Troop 21 at a candlelight ceremony Friday night in Daw Junior High School at Wellsville. About 100 attended.

The ceremony opened with the singing of "America" and the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. George Elliott, neighborhood chairman, gave an address on "The Importance of Girl Scouting" and invested Mrs. Thomas Lanam, Mrs. Paul Todd, Mrs. Jack Clark and Mrs. George Kemeny, leaders.

Mrs. Lanam, leader, invested the following Brownies: Janet Stover, Jane Broderick, Deborah Lanam, Cheryl Payne, Ann Clark, Ruth and Paula Todd, Susan McDevitt, Judy Kemeny, Yvonne Martin, Nancy Jarvis, Renee Dawson, Eddie May Murphy, Teddy Heaton, Toby Stevens, Sherry Roberts, Kristina Call, Deborah Barrows, Vickie Gaultier, Sandra Bratt, Janet Maylone, Kathy Corbisello, Sharon Shanks, Ruth Newlin, Marilyn Kay Henthorne, Carolyn Peachy, Linda and Deborah Stillwell, Vicki Haney and Diana Fishback.

Melinda Clark, Brenda Daniels, Beverly Wheatley and Linda Bender will receive their pins later as they were absent because of illness.

The group sang "Brownies Together" and "the Brownie Smile Song," accompanied by Mrs. Louise Lawton. The program concluded with the singing of "Goodnight Brownies." Lunch was served by Brownie leaders and committee mothers, Mrs. Lester Jarvis, Mrs. Darrell Stover and Mrs. James Roberts.

The tables were decorated in the Brownie motif with brown and yellow as the color scheme and yellow mums as the floral centerpieces.

Lighter 'Blue Laws' Indicated For State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Recent squabbles over retail selling on Sunday may lead to lighter "blue laws" in Ohio.

Present laws prohibit stores to be open on Sunday and a crackdown on their enforcement in Columbus, Cincinnati and Cleveland have created a furor which may lead to revision or repeal in the present legislature.

State Rep. Robert A. Taft Jr. (R-Hamilton) announced Saturday that he plans to introduce a House bill to repeal the law. He described Sunday closing laws now on the books as "unrealistic, outmoded and unenforceable."

Taft, however, made it clear that he was not in favor of repealing the law banning Sunday sales of intoxicating liquors.

Examinations To Be Held At High School

First semester examinations for high school students will be held Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning with no classes scheduled Thursday afternoon or Friday.

Wednesday's schedule calls for classes meeting during the first period to take their tests from 9 to 10 a.m. with examinations for second-period classes lasting from 10:05 to 11:05 a.m.

Third-period classes will receive exams from 1 to 2 p.m. with the fourth-period classes being tested from 2:05 to 3:05 p.m.

Fifth-period classes will meet from 9 to 10 a.m. Thursday for their examinations and sixth-period tests will be given from 10:05 to 11:05 a.m.

Teachers will be in their rooms during the regular school hours Thursday afternoon and Friday to complete their work.

All students in the three classes are required to take the mid-year exams. Seniors, however, are excused from final examinations in the spring.

No mid-term exams are held in the elementary or junior high schools. The students are tested at the end of each six-week grading period.

The second semester will start Jan. 19.
